

LAKES AND RIVERS CONFERENCE 2006

"The Changing Landscapes of Minnesota's Lakes and Rivers"

September 7- 9, 2006 • Duluth Entertainment & Convention Center

Join lake and river advocates from around the state on September 7-9 at the 2006 Lakes and Rivers Conference being held at the Duluth Entertainment and Convention Center (DECC). Networking, excellent speakers, new program opportunities, and fun are guaranteed in beautiful Duluth, the world's largest inland seaport, surrounded by dramatic hills and a breathtaking historic waterfront. Take a couple of extra days and wander up the North Shore as the colors begin to turn. Don't miss this opportunity to learn and play atop Lake Superior, the largest freshwater lake in North America.

- ★ Over 45 concurrent sessions from Thursday through Saturday
- ★ 85 exhibitors of lake management services and products
- ★ Field trips to view innovative projects in the Duluth area
- ★ Session tracks on Citizen Monitoring, Building Healthy Organizations, Watershed Stewardship, Shoreland Development, River Ecology and more!

Reserve rooms early - blocks of rooms at special conference rates are reserved for 9/6, 9/7, 9/8 & 9/9; mention Minnesota Waters Lakes and Rivers Conference when booking at:
